Pennsylvania SBDC Releases On-Demand Webinar Series for Entrepreneurs

PHILADELPHIA, PA – The Pennsylvania Small Business Development Centers (SBDC), through grant funding from the U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA), has released a series of four on-demand webinars for entrepreneurs and small business owners. Webinar topics include cloud computing, marketing your business online, exploring new markets, and business continuity planning. Each webinar is designed to take business owners step-by-step through the process of growing and protecting their business.

“These short, targeted webinars provide business owners with topical information that will help them build successful businesses in today’s competitive landscape,” said Pennsylvania SBDC State Director Christian Conroy. “The support from EDA to complete this project has been instrumental in us being able to develop this series,” he concluded.

The webinars can be watched online by visiting <http://pasbdc.org/continuity>, each webinar runs between 16 to 26 minutes in length. The series is available for on-demand viewing 24/7, and viewers must register in order to watch the series. A description of the four webinars available is included below:

The Cloud – Embracing the Future of Business (16 minutes) – Hear about the benefits and complexities of backing your data on the cloud, selecting the cloud service most pertinent for your business’ operations, and considerations when shopping for a cloud provider.

New Markets – New Opportunities (19 minutes) – Get the specifics of entering international, government, and online markets.

Business Continuity Planning (19 minutes) – Learn the process of identifying potential business interruptions and ways of mitigating them in order for your business to remain productive at all times.
